

This daily report (Monday through Friday) provides an overview of the shifting state, territorial and local government policies and guidance related to the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) outbreak in the US.

With a significant portion of the country eager to return to some semblance of normalcy, many states' and territories' stay at home/shelter in place orders expired on April 30. We are closely monitoring in detail the actions – e.g., comments from governors, executive actions, plans, frameworks, timeline announcements, etc. – states have taken thus far to reinvigorate their economies. For ease of reference, the term “state” will represent all US states, territories and the District of Columbia.
