About Dina

Dina Usanovic is an associate in the Corporate Practice Group, where she represents clients on a broad range of corporate matters, including mergers and acquisitions, securities law compliance and capital markets transactions. Dina brings to her practice a foundation in precise legal drafting, contract analysis and leadership developed through her academic experience.

Dina earned her J.D. from Cleveland State University College of Law, where she served as editor-in-chief of the Cleveland State Law Review. In that role, she led the editorial board, oversaw the publication process and helped ensure the accuracy and quality of each issue. As an Academic Excellence Fellow for Contracts Law, she mentored students and guided them through complex doctrinal concepts. She also served as a teaching assistant for legal writing, helping students strengthen their legal analysis and written advocacy skills.

During law school, Dina served as a judicial extern to the Honorable Judge Charles E. Fleming in the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Ohio.
