About Rebecca

Rebecca Dücker is a senior associate in our Intellectual Property & Technology Practice based in Frankfurt. Her practice focuses on litigation in trademark, design, copyright and competition law.

Rebecca Dücker advises and represents clients in the, inter alia, luxury goods, consumer goods and food industries in infringement proceedings before German courts and in cancellation and opposition proceedings before the German Patent and Trademark Office, the Federal Patent Court and the European Union Intellectual Property Office (EUIPO). She also represents clients in civil litigation matters.

Rebecca Dücker advises clients on managing global product piracy programs and represents them as injured parties in criminal or border seizure proceedings. Additionally, she counsels national and international clients on matters concerning product labeling, food law requirements, distribution issues, advertising law and related legal disputes.

She completed her legal clerkship in Frankfurt and New York City, where she worked for an international law firm, as well as in the IP department of one of the world-leading colour cosmetics brands.

Rebecca Dücker is a member of the German Association for Industrial Property and Copyright Law (GRUR) and the International Trademark Association (INTA).
