

Squire Patton Boggs Tariff Book

May 10, 2019

How Do You, Your Suppliers and Customers Fare as Trade Tensions Escalate?

It has been a tumultuous year for trade.

Nearly all steel and aluminum imported into the US now face additional 25% and 10% tariffs, respectively, after the Trump Administration determined such imports threatened US national security. An additional 25% tariff will be added to a growing list of products from China, following a US investigation into China's intellectual property practices and policies.

US trading partners are responding in kind. Canada, China, the EU, India, Mexico, Russia and Turkey have all taken measures or announced they will increase the costs of importing US products on almost 2,000 tariff lines. Japan is preparing to follow suit.

While the real economic pain of these tariffs may not be felt until the fourth quarter, they already have disrupted global supply chains and added to the cost of doing business.

The countries involved in and products affected by the current trade tensions are changing at a rapid pace. Recognizing the difficulties companies face in tracking current developments and potential increased costs throughout their supply chains, Squire Patton Boggs has developed (and will regularly update) a comprehensive collection of impacted tariff lines.

If a product imported or exported by you, your suppliers or any of your customers is included in our Tariff Book, there could be opportunities to seek relief.

Our International Trade Team has identified and is deeply engaged in the processes available to comment on and challenge these tariffs in the US and certain foreign markets.

How To Use This Book

Fully Searchable – Because there is so much information included in this Tariff Book, we have made the document fully searchable. Use “Control F”/ “Ctrl F” on a PC or use “command F” / “cmd F” on a Mac, then type in your product code or search term you are looking for.

Because of the high volume of tariffs imposed, we have divided the book into two separate documents:

Tariffs imposed on global products by the US

Global tariffs imposed on US products

Use the links in the header at the top of the page to navigate to the section you are interested in and then search by product code or general term.

Updates – This document is correct as of May 10, 2019. However, because this is a fast moving situation, we plan on regular updates. To ensure you receive notice of any changes and updates, register for Trade Practitioner, our International Trade Practice blog. Once you are registered, you will automatically receive an alert when the document is revised.

The information provided in this book comes from a number of different sources, some of which are official foreign government documents written in languages other than English and others that were converted from PDFs. While we were able to provide unofficial translations for some of these documents, users should rely on the source material linked at the bottom of each page.
